UPDATE: Hawaiian Electric nears completion on storm restoration work

HONOLULU, Aug. 27, 2024 (11:30 a.m.) – Hawaiian Electric continues to make significant progress toward restoring power to the remaining customers who were impacted by Tropical Storm Hone.

Crews are working to restore a few remaining customers impacted by the storm on Maui and O‘ahu.

As of 8 a.m. today, about 248 Hawai‘i Island customers remain without power. Crews are continuing to respond to scattered, isolated outages in the following areas:

- Pāpa‘ikou and Pepe‘ekeo
- Hawaiian Beaches and Hawaiian Shores
- ‘Āinaloa Subdivision
- Nānāwale Estates, Leilani Estates, Kalapana and Seaview Estates
- Mountain View, Glenwood, Royal Hawaiian Estates and Fern Forest
- Volcano Village, Mauna Loa Estates, Hawai‘i Volcanoes National Park, Volcano Golf Course Subdivision
- Waipunahina, Pa‘auilo and Kalōpā Mauka and Makai
- Āhualoa to Pā‘auhau

Customers who do not live in these areas are urged to call the Hawai‘i Island Trouble Line at 808-969-6666 if they are still without electricity.

Hawaiian Electric is also collaborating with the County of Hawai‘i to provide critical information and resources at County shelters at Kea‘au Armory at Shipman Park and Pāhoa Neighborhood Facility at William “Billy” Kenoi District Park. Both shelters are pet-friendly and will provide Wi-Fi connectivity. Company representatives will be at the shelters from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.
