Chapter 91, HRS.
Adjudicatory
Matters:

Chairperson Polischek called for a recess from the Board's meeting at 8:32 a.m. to discuss and deliberate on the following adjudicatory matters pursuant to HRS chapter 91.

- 1. Settlement Agreements
- a. In the Matter of the Contractor's Licenses of SCV Pools Spas & Masonry, Inc.; Stephen J. Erenberg; CLB 2013-36-L

Respondent SCV Pools Spas & Masonry, Inc. ("Respondent SCV"), and Respondent Stephen J. Erenberg ("Respondent Erenberg") are licensed contractors. Respondents' C-31 Masonry, C-32 Ornamental guardrail and fencing, C-49 Swimming pool, and C-51 Tile contractor licenses were issued on or about June 19, 2007; and will expire or forfeit on or about September 30, 2016. At all relevant times therein, Respondent Erenberg was the RME of Respondent SCV.

On or about October 15, 2011, Respondent SCV entered into a written contract to install a pool and spa for a homeowner.

RICO alleges that the contract used by Respondent SCV to perform the work was missing several disclosure requirements.

If proven at an administrative hearing, the allegations would constitute violations of the following law and rules:

- HRS section 444-25.5 (disclosures required in written homeowner contracts);
- HAR sections 16-77-70 and 16-77-71 (RME responsible for conduct of contracting entity); and
- HAR sections 16-77-79 and 16-77-80 (disclosures required in homeowner contracts).

Respondents do not admit to violating any law or rule and agree to pay an administrative fine in the amount of $2,000.00.

After discussion, it was moved by Mr. Lee, seconded by Mr. Kamai, and unanimously carried to approve the Settlement Agreement Prior to Filing of Petition for Disciplinary Action and Board's Final Order in the above case.

b. In the Matter of the Contractor's License of Michael K. Evans, Jr.: CLB 2015-303-L

Respondent Michael K. Evans, Jr. ("Respondent") is licensed as a General building contractor. The license was issued on or about July 23, 2007; and will expire or forfeit on or about September 30, 2016.

RICO initiated an investigation alleging that Respondent failed to comply with laws governing conduct.

RICO alleges that Respondent failed to disclose that he was convicted of a petty misdemeanor offense of Willful Failure to Appear in Answer to Citation on August 27, 2009 in the District Court of the Third Circuit, State of Hawaii, on his 2010 renewal application that was electronically filed on August 10, 2010 and subsequently submitted to the DCCA's Professional and Vocational Licensing Division ("PVLD").

RICO alleges that Respondent failed to disclose that he was convicted of two separate misdemeanor offenses of Criminal Contempt of Court on September 18, 2009 in the District Court of the Third Circuit, State of Hawaii, on his 2010 renewal application that was electronically filed on August 10, 2010 and subsequently submitted to the PVLD.

RICO alleges that Respondent failed to disclose that he was convicted of a petty misdemeanor offense of Willful Failure to Appear in Answer to Citation on July 15, 2010 in the District Court of the Third Circuit, State of Hawaii, on his 2010 and 2012 renewal application that was electronically filed on August 10, 2010 and August 9, 2012, respectively, and subsequently to the PVLD.

RICO alleges that Respondent failed to disclose that he was convicted of a petty misdemeanor offense of Operating a Vehicle Under the Influence of an Intoxicant and two separate misdemeanor offenses of Criminal Contempt of Court on May 21, 2014 in the District Court of the Third Circuit, State of Hawaii, on his 2014 renewal application that was electronically filed on August 11, 2014, and subsequently submitted to the PVLD.

If proven at an administrative hearing, the allegations would constitute violations of the following laws:

- HRS section 436B-19(5) (procuring a license through fraud, misrepresentation, or deceit); and
- HRS section 444-17(10) (misrepresenting a material fact by applicant in obtaining a license).

Respondent does not admit to violating any law or rule, and agrees to pay an administrative fine in the amount of $500.00

After discussion, it was moved by Mr. Konishi, seconded by Mr. Kamai, and unanimously carried to approve the Settlement Agreement Prior to Filing of Petition for Disciplinary Action and Board's Final Order in the above case.

c. In the Matter of the Contractor's Licenses of Lahaina Carpet & Interiors, Inc. and Douglas J. Poseley; CLB 2011-85-L

Respondent Lahaina Carpet & Interiors, Inc. ("Respondent Lahaina") and Respondent Douglas J. Poseley ("Respondent Poseley") are licensed contractors. Respondent Lahaina's C-7 Carpet laying and C-21 Flooring licenses were issued on or about March 24, 1998; and are set to expire on September 30, 2016. At all relevant times herein, Respondent Poseley, the Responsible Managing Employee ("RME"), possessed specialty licenses for C-7 Carpet laying and C-21 Flooring. Respondent Poseley's C-7 Carpet laying contractor license was issued on or about July 20, 1972. Respondent Poseley's C-21 Flooring contractor license was issued on or about October 13, 1976.

Respondent Poseley's licenses are set to expire on September 30, 2016.

RICO received a complaint alleging that on or about November 4, 2006, Respondents entered into a contract with the homeowners.

RICO alleges that in entering the aforementioned contract, Respondents failed to: (1) explain in detail the lien rights of all parties performing under the contract; (2) explain the homeowner's right to demand the bonding of the project; (3) explain how the bond would protect the homeowner or the approximate expense of the bond, and (4) provide notice of the contractor's right to resolve alleged construction defects prior to commencing any litigation under HRS section 672E-11.

If proven at an administrative hearing, the allegations would constitute violations of the laws and rules:

- HRS section 444-25.5(a)(1) (verbal disclosures of lien rights);
- HRS section 444-25.5(a)(2) (verbal disclosure of bonding rights);
- HRS section 444-25.5(b)(1) (written disclosure of lien obligations and bonding rights);
- HRS section 444-25(b)(2) (disclosure of Respondent's Contractor Repair Act rights);
- HAR section 16-77-79(a)(4) (disclosure of bonding rights);
- HAR section 16-77-80(a)(7) (disclosure of lien rights); and
- HAR section 16-77-71(5) (RME responsible for any violation of this chapter or chapter 444 HRS).

Respondents do not admit to violating any law or rule, and agree to pay an administrative fine in the amount of $2,500.00.

After discussion, it was moved by Mr. Lee, seconded by Mr. Konishi, and unanimously carried to approve the Settlement Agreement Prior to Filing of Petition for Disciplinary Action and Board's Final Order in the above case.

2. Board's Final Orders

None.

Following the Board's review, deliberation and decisions in these matters, pursuant to HRS chapter 91, Chairperson Polischek announced that the Board was reconvening to its open meeting at 8:38 a.m.

Committee Reports:

1. Scope of Activity Committee
Nathan T. Konishi, Chairperson

Eric R. Gruver (Deferred from July 22, 2016 meeting) – Requests clarification on the following:

- (1) Whether a C-33 Licensed Contractor can do concrete spall repairs under this license and what are the stipulations.
- (2) If so how much is he/she allowed to repair (depth etc.)?
- (3) Where does the C-31a/C-31d license become mandatory?
- (4) What constitutes "structural" and "non-structural" spall repairs? For instance, a repair on a significant load bearing wall vs an aesthetic repair on a retaining wall perhaps? Is there a clear cut definition for "structural" spalling vs "non-structural"?
- (5) Can a C33 Contractor legally repair concrete/spalls/aesthetics in concrete? To what extent?

Mr. Gruver was not present.

Mr. Jeffrey Masatsugu presented written testimony in support of the C-33 Painting and decorating contractor performing non-structural spall repair work on behalf of the Painting Industry of Hawaii Labor Management Cooperation Trust Fund. Their testimony cited the January 18, 2013 Contractors License Board meeting in which the Board determined that spall repair work for the Piikoi Atrium project was "surface preparation work", permissible under the C-33 Painting and decorating contractor's license. The testimony also cited Mr. Dean Nagatoshi's testimony at the Board's July 22, 2106 meeting in which Mr. Nagatoshi stated that painting contractors typically do spall repair to properly prepare surfaces for painting.

Mr. Arnold Wong of the Ironworkers Local Union 625 Stabilization Fund thanked the Board for discussing the above inquiry at the July 22, 2016 meeting through the power outage in DCCA's building. He stated that any work that is structural and involves any rebar work requires a C-41 Reinforcing steel contractor's license.

Mr. John Gervacio, Local 360 Masons Union stated that their union members are trained in spall repair work through classes and journeyman upgrades. Spall repair is structural, and not cosmetic.

Mr. Paul Kane III, Manager/Owner of Aloha Marketing Manufacturers Representatives, LLC and representing the International Concrete Repair Institute ("ICRI") stated that if structural steel is involved, the C-33 Painting and decorating contractor cannot perform the work. If it is a minor surface imperfection in the concrete, the C-33 Painting and decorating contractor would be able to perform that surface preparation work. Work involving mixing cement based mortar and repair of rebar or fiber reinforcing polymer rebar should be done by a mason.

Mr. Todd Saito of the Masons Union Local 1 read the following from an article published by the Portland Cement Association titled "Concrete Slab Surface Defects: Causes, Prevention, Repair":

"Spalling: Spalling is a deeper surface defect than scaling, often appearing as circular or oval depressions on surfaces or as elongated cavities along joints. Spalls may be 25 mm (1 in.) or more in depth and 150 mm (6 in.) or more in diameter, although smaller spall also occur. Spalls are caused by pressure or expansion within the concrete, bond failure in two-course construction, impact loads, fire, or weathering. Improperly constructed joints and corroded reinforcing steel are two common causes of spalls.”

Mr. Saito stated that he has 20 years in the mason industry and in his opinion, most spalling in Hawaii is caused by the ingress of moisture in the air (especially the salt air) into concrete that causes corrosion of reinforcement and results in the volume expansion of steel bars, consequently causing cracks and spalling of the concrete. He stated that spall repair work requires a C-31 Masonry, C-31a Cement concrete, or C-31d Tuckpointing and caulking contractor’s license. When tools of the trowel trade are being used, the Masons Union Local 1 believes that that the work is in the jurisdiction of the C-31 Masonry contractor. He also agreed with Mr. Wong that a C-41 Reinforcing steel contractor or a C-48 Structural steel contractor is required if the repair work is structural.

Mr. Saito stated that in answer to question # 2, a C-33 Painting and decorating classification description is limited to cement and rubber based coatings, and does not include patching cement. In answer to question # 3, when the tools of the trowel trade are used and if the base is cementitious, it is in the jurisdiction of the C-31 Masonry contractor. With regard to question # 4, Mr. Saito stated that non-structural spalling would occur when the concrete freezes and thaws which do not occur in Hawaii except maybe at Mauna Kea on the Big Island. He stated that in answer to question # 5 a C-33 Painting and decorating contractor would only be able to repair spalling if the contractor also licensed in the C-31 Masonry classification.

DAG Tam asked other interested parties if they could also answer and/or comment on each question presented in Mr. Gruver’s inquiry.

Mr. Masatsugu stated that it is difficult to address each of Mr. Gruver’s questions because they are repetitive and some questions overlap each other. Historically, painters have been performing spall repair and have applied cement based epoxy as a rebar primer to treat corrosion on the rebar.

Mr. Kane stated that structural repair refers to repairs of any load bearing member such as load bearing walls, columns, and beams. Application of cement based and epoxy material to repair spall is structural. When rebar is exposed and needs to be coated or cut out and repaired, it is a structural repair and requires the input of a structural engineer.

Work is non-structural if there is no steel involved. Bug holes, pinholes, pockets and other minor surface imperfections that can be filled in with caulking or spackle using a knife for surface preparation can be performed by painters. Another example of non-structural work is the nose bar around the railing post.

Mr. Kane disagrees that painters should be performing spall repair work. Rebar can be repaired with tie wire and not necessarily require welding because welding can cause problems with the rebar. They have been using Pele's hair in epoxy to get away from steel rebar.

The Board asked Mr. Kane if he considers surface preparation to be non-structural spall repair. Mr. Kane answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Masatsugu stated that there is a broad range of circumstances and that the determination of whether a spall repair is structural or non-structural depends on what is found at the project site.

Dr. Gaur Johnson, Assistant Professor of Structural Engineering, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, University of Hawaii at Manoa, stated that he is a member of the Structural Engineers Association of Hawaii ("SEAOH"), Hawaii Building Code Council and the American Concrete Institute ("ACI") 562 Evaluation Committee. Dr. Johnson stated that the history of concrete repair is not good. He related that he met with the SEAOH the previous week and spoke with C-31 Masonry contractors. A Cement concrete contractor related to him that the following are not uncommon:

- Engineer or owner states that a painter chipped the concrete out from behind a post tension cable resulting in a major structural failure
- Decks are not shored properly during repairs or pour backs
- Reinforcement sistering or change out not safely addressed

He stated that concrete spalls are often the first signs of a significant, underlying structural issue. For this reason he believes that repairs need to be performed by a contractor who has the fundamental understanding of what causes spalling to occur, and the C-31 Masonry contractor is the appropriate contractor to perform spall repair as they are adequately trained to perform this work. If C-33 Painting and decorating contractors want to perform spall repair, they should get the C-31a Cement concrete contractor's license.

Dr. Johnson noted that he reviewed both the Board's and Prometric's websites. According to the Prometric website, the reference materials which serve as the basis for the current C-33 Painting and decorating examination include: (1) Painting and Decorating Craftsman Manual, Painting and Decorating Contractors of America, and (2) Occupational Safety and Health Administration, Department of Labor (cont'd), 29 CFR, Part 1926, GPO: 1995; whereas one of the reference materials for the C-31a Cement concrete is the Uniform Building Code, Vo. 1 1997, International Conference of Building Officials ("UBC"). Dr. Johnson stated that the C-31a contractors have met the minimum competency requirements to do the structural spall and concrete repair.

The Board stated that it seems extreme for painters not to do any spall repair. Dr. Johnson shared an example where his father sat on an Association of Apartment Owners ("AOAO") Board in Honolulu. The AOAO had hired painters to perform painting and spall repairs. A few years later the AOAO is having to spend a lot more money to fix the prior concrete repairs. Dr. Johnson stated these repair projects are burdening consumers with large unexpected costs. He stated that half of the concrete repair projects are going back to the AOAO who had substandard repairs completed by painters. Within two years, the AOAOs are having to perform repairs and hire structural engineers to evaluate the site. Dr. Johnson stated that if you see one spall, that does not mean there no more damage.

The Board asked Dr. Johnson if any kind of spall repair work must be completed by a C-31 Masonry contractor. Dr. Johnson responded that it is hard to answer that question because it depends. For example if there is obvious corrosion an expert would be needed to take a look at the damage. He also stated that he does not know where to draw that line. That is why he takes the position that if you believe that you are qualified to perform spall repair, get the license. Further, because deterioration is becoming a problem, only qualified individuals should perform spall repair.

Mr. Kane added that it's like going to the dentist. It's okay for the dental hygienist to whiten your teeth, but would want the dental hygienist to fix a sore tooth? No, you would want the dentist, who is qualified, to fix your tooth.

Dr. Johnson stated that the International Concrete Repair Institute ("ICRI") has developed nationally recognized training and certification programs and suggested that it may be useful for the Board to consider it as part of the license requirements.

Dr. Johnson asked the Board to consider who is qualified to perform spall repair, and the consequences of allowing untrained individuals to perform spall repair.

Executive
Session:

At 9:12 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Kagawa, seconded by Mr. Konishi, and unanimously carried to enter into executive session pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(4) to consult with Rodney J. Tam, deputy attorney general, on questions and issues pertaining to the Board's powers, duties, privileges, immunities, and liabilities.

At 9:35 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Kamai, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to move out of executive session and to reconvene to the Board's regular order of business.

Eric R. Gruver – Requests clarification on the following:

- (1) Whether a C-33 Licensed Contractor can do concrete spall repairs under this license and what are the stipulations.
- (2) If so how much is he/she allowed to repair (depth, etc.)?
- (3) Where does the C-31a/C-31d license become mandatory?
- (4) What constitutes "structural" and "non-structural" spall repairs? For instance, a repair on a significant load bearing wall vs an aesthetic repair on a retaining wall perhaps? Is there a clear cut definition for "structural" spalling vs "non-structural"?
- (5) Can a C33 Contractor legally repair concrete/spalls/aesthetics in concrete? To what extent?

Recommendation: Defer this matter to allow interested parties an opportunity to provide additional information. The Board requests that individuals testifying today and other interested parties submit their testimony in writing; answer question nos. 1 through 5; and submit codes or standards (and relevant sections) referred to in the testimony for the Board's consideration. The Board requests that all interested parties provide the information by September 1, 2016.

It was moved by Mr. Konishi, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to approve the above scope recommendation.

Appearances
Before the Board:

- d. Joseph M. Rojas, RME

"B" General Building

Executive
Session:

At 9:40 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Konishi, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to enter into executive session pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(1) to consider and evaluate personal information relating to individuals applying for professional or vocational licenses cited in HRS section 26-9, and to consult with Rodney J. Tam, deputy attorney general, on questions and issues pertaining to the Board's powers, duties, privileges, immunities, and liabilities pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(4).

At 9:55 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Leong, seconded by Mr. Matsuoka, and unanimously carried to move out of executive session and to reconvene to the Board's regular order of business.

Mr. Leong informed Mr. Rojas that the experience documented qualifies for a C-6 Carpentry framing contractor's license and does not qualify for a "B" General building contractor's license. He lacks the requisite experience in the "B" General building classification and could work for a "B" General building contractor or his contracting entity could hire an RME licensed in the "B" General building classification to gain more experience in this classification. Mr. Rojas stated that he would be regressing if he were work under a "B" General building contractor. Chairperson Polischek stated that the requirements for a "B" General building contractor's license is 48 months of supervisory experience in that classification.

Mr. Rojas stated that he interested in applying for the C-6 Carpentry framing classification.

After discussion, it was moved by Mr. Leong, seconded by Mr. Matsuoka, and unanimously carried to deny Mr. Rojas' application for licensure in the "B" General Building classification because he did not meet the experience requirement; amend his application to the C-6 Carpentry framing classification; and to approve Mr. Rojas' application for licensure in the C-6 Carpentry framing classification.

- e. Joseph E. Fullmer (Individual)
"B" General Building

Executive
Session:

At 9:58 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Lee, seconded by Mr. Isemoto, and unanimously carried to enter into executive session pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(1) to consider and evaluate personal information relating to individuals applying for professional or vocational licenses cited in HRS section 26-9, and to consult with Rodney J. Tam, deputy attorney general, on questions and issues pertaining to the Board's powers, duties, privileges, immunities, and liabilities pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(4).

At 10:11 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to move out of executive session and to reconvene to the Board's regular order of business.

It was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to approve Mr. Fullmer's application for licensure in the "B" General building classification.

Executive
Session:

At 10:12 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to enter into executive session pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(1) to consider and evaluate personal information relating to individuals applying for professional or vocational licenses cited in HRS section 26-9, and to consult with Rodney J. Tam, deputy attorney general, on questions and issues pertaining to the Board's powers, duties, privileges, immunities, and liabilities pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(4).

At 10:27 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Lee, seconded by Mr. Mochida, and unanimously carried to move out of executive session and to reconvene to the Board's regular order of business.

Mr. Mochida informed Mr. Payne that he did not have the required 48 months of supervisory experience in the broad scope of the "A" General engineering classification.

It was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to deny Mr. Payne's application for licensure in the "A" General Engineering classification because he did not meet the experience requirement; and to approve Mr. Payne's application for licensure in the "B" General Building classification pending the submittal of a copy of his Civil Engineering degree.

Executive
Session:

At 10:29 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to enter into executive session pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(1) to consider and evaluate personal information relating to individuals applying for professional or vocational licenses cited in HRS section 26-9, and to consult with Rodney J. Tam, deputy attorney general, on questions and issues pertaining to the Board's powers, duties, privileges, immunities, and liabilities pursuant to HRS section 92-5(a)(4).

At 10:37 a.m., it was moved by Mr. Lee, seconded by Mr. Mochida, and unanimously carried to move out of executive session and to reconvene to the Board's regular order of business.

Mr. Mochida informed Mr. Hay that the experience documented qualifies for the C-5 Cabinet, millwork, and carpentry remodeling and repairs classification. He lacks the requisite experience in the "B" General building classification and he could gain more experience in this classification by hiring an RME licensed in the "B" General building classification. Mr. Hay stated that he is trying to take over for his employer who is moving to Florida.

Mr. Hay withdrew his application in the "B" General Building classification, and said he is interested in applying for the C-5 Cabinet, millwork, and carpentry remodeling and repairs classification.

After discussion, it was moved by Mr. Mochida, seconded by Mr. Lee, and unanimously carried to accept Mr. Hay's withdrawal of his application in the "B" classification and request to amend his application to the C-5 classification; and to approve Mr. Hay's application for licensure in the C-5 classification.
