Virtual Meeting Instructions: A short video regarding virtual meetings was played for attendees. The Chair provided information on internet and phone access for today's virtual meeting and announced that today's meeting was being recorded and that the recording will be posted on the Board's web page.

Call to Order: The Chair took roll call of the Board members.

In accordance with Act 220, SLH 2021, all Board members attending virtually confirmed that they were alone in their nonpublic location.

After taking roll, quorum was established, and the meeting was called to order at 9:06 a.m.

Chair's Report: 1) The Chair shared that she and Mr. Aratani will be attending the NCSBN annual meeting on August 13-15 in Chicago, IL, on the board's behalf as the voting delegation for the meeting.
2) The Chair reported out on the number of on-time license renewals (between April 21 and June 30, 2025): 3,032 APRNs, 1,730 LPNs, and 31,463 RNs for a total of 36,225 nurses. The report will be made available to the public by Alice Byrd at NCSBN.
3) The Chair made announced the upcoming departure of Marc Yoshimura as the board's secretary and expressed gratitude for his service.

Approval of Minutes: Approval of the Open and Executive Session Minutes of the July 3, 2025 Meeting

Mr. Kuo identified a correction to be made: Jeremy Creekmore, Hawaii Association of Professional Nurses, was not present at the meeting as a guest as indicated by the session minutes. The Chair rescinded the previous motion and asked for a motion with modifications which was seconded by Mr. Dunbar. It was voted on and unanimously carried to approve the modified open and executive session minutes of the July 3, 2025 meeting.

Proposed Changes To NCSBN Model Act and Rules:

The Chair explained that changes to the NCSBN Model Act and Rules are on the agenda for discussion so that she can be prepared to raise a conversation at the delegate assembly for NCSBN about their change to the definition of "assessment" for LPNs. DAG Wong had reminded the board that they can deviate from NCSBN's scopes of practice in the draft changes if they are uncomfortable with them. The Chair further explained that the draft will be voted on by the delegate assembly, and once the changes are official, the board can deviate from NCSBN's definitions. In particular, the word "assessment" continues to raise concerns for her.

In Article III, Section 1. c. 1., the following proposed amendment is provided, and asked the Board if there is reason to be concerned about the proposed language:

> Conducting nursing assessments~~Collecting data and conducting nursing assessments~~ of the health status of patients as defined within the scope of practice.

The Chair presented this time as the opportunity for board members to introduce other discussion points related to the changes in the Model Act and Rules.

regulation of nursing practice, which is incorporated into HRS §457-6.5 and HAR 16-89, which defines the parameters for scope of practice. The Board has adopted the standards and scope of practice for LPNs, RNs, and APRNs. In addition, NSCBN provided proposed revisions to their Model Act and Rules, which will be discussed and voted on during this year's NCSBN annual meeting, that Mr. Aratani and herself will be attending. She noted there is one amendment she would like to discuss with the Board, pertaining to LPNs ability to provide assessments.

Mr. Kuo raised concerns about the impact of the Nurse Licensure Compact (NLC) on the board's voting delegation.

The Chair explained that the NLC functions separately from the rest of the voting delegation for NCSBN. At the annual meeting, for example, there's one day dedicated to the NLC meeting where all the commissioners for the NLC meet. Hawaii doesn't participate in that meeting because we are not a part of the NLC. The Chair can attend as a guest but will not partake in agenda items.

The Chair expressed appreciation for Mr. Kuo's question and asked if there were additional questions from other members of the board. When there were no further questions from the members, the Chair acknowledged questions from guests.

Ms. Karen Boyer raised her hand and was promoted to panelist.

Ms. Boyer referenced the session meetings from July 3, 2025, and asked for clarification if this conversation is an effort to streamline the communication with the scope of practice in the NCSBN model rules for APRNs, RNs and LPNs.

The Chair responded that her intention for putting the Model Act and Rules discussion on the agenda for the August 7 meeting was to provide board members an opportunity to share their thoughts on the draft changes so that she can relay them to NCSBN.

Ms. Boyer directed her next question to EO Pang on whether this is NCSBN's attempt to make the definition of "assessment" consistent across the scopes of practice for APRN, RN, and LPN.

EO Pang responded affirmatively that is his understanding based on the proposed rationale that NCSBN provided for the change to the LPN language; the rationale was just to make the language uniform with the RN and the APRN, and nothing about the scope of practice. However, this should not discourage anyone from raising concerns about the revised language at the annual meeting.

Ms. Boyer asked further if the board has its own definition for LPNs, to which EO Pang confirmed that Hawaii Revised Statute 457-6.5 lays out that we follow the scope of practice set out by the model acts and rules from NCSBN, but we are allowed to deviate from it so long as we state in our minutes exactly how we are deviating and the rationale for doing so.

The Chair thanked Ms. Boyer for her questions.

Ms. Boyer returned to the meeting as an attendee.

Mr. Dunbar asked a clarifying question about whether the board would have an opportunity to go back and make recommendations or change our rules if we don't agree with the NCSBN revisions. The Chair explained that, as EO Pang described, if NCSBN ultimately finalizes the proposed changes and we're uncomfortable with whatever aspect of the change is, we can come back and discuss. And as long as we document the discussion and document in our minutes that we would make a deviation from what NCSBN has put in the model act and rules. The Chair reiterated that if there is a particular concern, she and Mr. Aratani will provide testimony on behalf of this board. The process for adopting the rules revision is that they use parliamentary procedure, so there's an opportunity to provide testimony from the delegation. Therefore, if there is a specific position the members would like for her to take, she will relay that on behalf of the board based on the EO's recommendation last time. There is no guarantee that the NCSBN will incorporate our definition and suggested revisions, but ultimately we have control over what our definitions and scope are.

Mr. Dunbar mentioned that semantically, LPNs collecting health data can be translated as "assessment." However, one of the features that has differentiated LP practice from RN practice is the ability to assess and/or act make judgments upon those assessments. If the proposed language revisions are finalized, it opens up interpretation in clinical and healthcare environments. Semantically, is collecting health data measuring different aspects of a person's health status an assessment? And is that consistent with both RN and APR and scopes of practice? The reason we have three different levels of nursing practice in this country is because each level has a different value and scope of responsibility relative to the assessment, treatment, and care of patients.

The Chair shared that her understanding of NCSBN's intention was to indicate that each level of nursing can perform an assessment within their scope of practice, and then subsequently delineate the scope of practice. She expects that this question will be raised at the annual meeting, but if it doesn't come up, she will raise the question.

Ms. Shields-Hanson asked the question to those in hospital practice: What do you call the assessment that the LPN does? Do you call it something different other than an "assessment"? Do they chart in a different place?

Mr. Dunbar responded that due to the gray areas and a number of other issues, his organization does not use RNs or LPNs in the inpatient setting. Instead, they're used in ambulatory settings.

Ms. Shields-Hanson continued to comment that in the education system, they call it "data collection." If we ask to revise the model, what can we suggest calling this, what can we change it to?

Ms. Riggs responded that in the hospital setting where she works, they do not use LPNs. Instead, LPNs are in the clinics and they do collect a lot of data. However, they don't use the word "assessment." She further asked a clarifying question that the Model Act already says "conducting nursing assessments" and the proposed revision removes "collecting data." The Chair confirmed that there is a very clear understanding among nurses that an assessment is not something an LPN does; "assessment" just means surveying a situation and making an evaluation and whether an intervention is necessary. They're not necessarily deciding what that intervention ought to be, but they are there to determine when a patient requires attention, which does not seem outside their scope of practice.

Mr. Kuo interjected that "collecting data" delineates the difference in the scopes of practice, but the proposed change removes that delineation.

Mr. Dunbar noted that LPN work can be delegated to an LPN by an RN, APRN, or physician. In the Model Act, there is nothing about delegation related to "assessments" and "data collection." He added that the revision attempts to standardize the definitions, but ultimately, we have three different types of nurses who receive different training and perform different scopes of practice.

Ms. Shields-Hanson suggests that "data collection" is just recording data whereas "assessment" requires the LPN to act on that data; it's action-oriented. They're still assessing the client and then making a decision in accordance to their scope of practice.

Mr. Kuo asks a clarifying question about what the Model Act currently says about "data collection" and "assessment." The Chair reiterates that the revisions do not add anything; they're only removing "data collection." She assumes that they cannot do an assessment without the collection of data for any level of scope of practice, but this was specified only for LPNs in the current model and not the other levels of nurses.

EO Pang noted that the scope of practice is defined not only in the model act, but also in the model rules which include more details. He recommended that the board take a look at the model rules, particularly pages four and six of the redlined model rules. Page four essentially outlines the levels of practice (Chapter 3, Section 3.1.2), and page six outlines the RN scope of practice (Section 3.2.1). You can identify the two differentiations between the two levels by comparing these sections. In the standards of the LPN scope, you have implementing nursing interventions and prescribed medical regiments in a timely and safe manner, documenting nursing care provided accurately and timely, etc. And in contrast, for the RN scope of practice, you have identifying changes in patient health status and taking appropriate action, documenting nursing care changes in the patient condition and all relevant information, etc. He recommends that the board should discuss these differences in language between the two scopes in the model rules and see if they're comfortable with the differences in scopes and division of labor.

The Chair was eager to hear from members of other nursing boards at the delegate assembly. The board could always decide whether they wanted to deviate from the model act and model rules. She requested that further conversation on the model act and rules be paused until the NCSBN votes on and approves the revisions, and then the board can revisit the issue of whether they want to put different boundaries around the scope.

Mr. Kuo agrees with The Chair that having a discussion after the revisions are finalized is appropriate. He also commented that other states might have different rules as well, so each state will need to make that determination for themselves.

The Chair expressed gratitude for the thoughtful attention to the language and scope definitions. She will report after the annual meeting regarding this subject.

The Chair called for public testimony on the model act and rule.

The Secretary confirmed that there were no raised hands.

Question regarding Out-of-State Nursing Programs

EO Pang introduced Laura Reichhardt, Director of the Hawaii State Center for Nursing, who raised the question: Is an out-of-state school that's offering pre-license, or educational clinicals taking place in Hawaii, required to undergo the approval process, as established in Hawaii Administrative Rules chapter eight?

To aid in this discussion, EO Pang provided materials. First is the announcement that has been posted on PVL’s nursing website since 2022 on out-of-state, post-licensure nursing programs which are different from the pre-license. The announcement responds to the question of: Do we approve out-of-state/online/distance learning post-licensure nursing programs? No. Provided the nursing program does not have a campus in the state, the Board did not approve out-of-state/online/distance learning post-licensure nursing programs. Does the State Board of Nursing have to be notified by the out of state online or distance learning post licensure nursing programs? No. Does the faculty of the out-of-state online distance learning post-licensure nursing program have to be licensed as a nurse in Hawaii? Only if the faculty is physically teaching or precepting a nursing student in this state, then yes. And lastly, are graduates of an out-of-state / online / distance learning post-licensure nursing program able to qualify for Hawaii nurse license? And the answer was, if the nursing program is nationally accredited and meets the requirements of HRS 457-7 or 457-8, then yes. This provided context as to the board's prior decisions regarding out-of-state post-licensure nursing programs.

EO Pang also provided an excerpt of the relevant parts of the rules related to the approval and standards regarding nursing education in Hawaii. He asked for the Board's thoughts on this question.

Ms. Shields-Hanson shared her knowledge on pre-licensure programs in California which require the clinician to have an affiliation agreement with the agency they're working with. In California, there was an attempt to pass a state bill that required anyone doing pre-licensure education for nursing from an out-of-state program with a face-to-face clinical in the state of California to satisfy five criteria. For example, they had to be approved and accredited in their state and be in good standing, and they could not take placement slots away from any California in-state programs. And they had to submit a report to the Board of Registered Nursing and the supervisor that has the students must have a California state license. She doesn't know if the bill passed. There are 152 programs in-state that do pre-licensure.

Mr. Kuo asked Ms. Reichhardt for the context behind this question.

Ms. Reichhardt shared that there is a school of nursing who has students enrolled and based in the state of Hawaii, but the pre-licensure program is located out-of-state. And the use case is that the Center for Nursing runs a clinical placement collaborative. It does not replace memorandum of agreements or affiliate agreements between the healthcare facility and the school. The center facilitates critical placements, and that's where the question came up. The Center cannot ascertain whether this qualifies the school as being in-state. The guidance for out-of-state post-license programs is very clear as these programs are at schools that are physically located out-of-state.

The Chair pointed out that the law lags behind reality and her interpretation of the rule is that it makes no reference to out-of-state programs; there is no regulatory boundary that includes out-of-state programs. The question is: Does a school that's not located in Hawaii but has students in clinicals qualify as an in-state program that would put it in the purview of the regulation?

Ms. Reichhardt states that the Board's communications reference brick and mortar schools, but the laws and rules do not. Boards of Nursing in other states have criteria and guidance to oversee these programs, but Hawaii does not have guidance on what constitutes as in-state education.

Mr. Dunbar asked a clarifying question of where the instructors are located. Ms. Reichhardt responded that this depends on the curriculum design and trying to figure out how to accommodate their physical displacement is how this question surfaced.

Mr. Kuo is concerned that this school has found a loophole in the HRS and is taking advantage of it. The Chair does not agree that there's a loophole but rather that the language in the rule doesn't account for the scenario that has evolved over time. Education has become more flexible than when the rules were originally written. The board does not regulate out-of-state programs, and the current rules do not account for out-of-state programs.

Mr. Dunbar asked if the program is a traditional clinical curriculum or a specialized clinic, such as trans-cultural or public health with a focus on a local population that requires the students to reside within that community. Ms. Reichhardt's understanding of the program is that the students are residents of Hawaii, and they will be completing the vast majority of their entire pre-licensure education in Hawaii.

Ms. Shields-Hanson asked if the board has a say in where students are doing their clinical practice. She thinks it goes back to the agency as they have the affiliation agreement and they're allowing these students to practice at their agency.

Ms. Reichhardt explained that the reason why she brought this question to the attention of the board is because nursing education falls within the board's purview. She is seeking clear, explicit guidance from the board on:
1. Are these programs allowed to operate?
2. Will the board review or approve them?
3. What standards ensure safe, quality nursing education?

While the current board interpretation is that they do not regulate out-of-state programs, she would like to see formal language clarifying this position. She's also proactively offering to share research on how other states handle similar situations to aid in developing comprehensive guidance.

Mr. Dunbar shared that in-state programs have a difficult time finding clinical placements for their students due to limited spots. If a program is not following the same rules as in-state schools, then in-state students should have access to the clinical placements.

Mr. Kuo provided an example that supports Mr. Dunbar's opinion as a similar discussion came up several years ago when an out-of-state school tried to set up a program in Hawaii, and the concern was related to the number of clinical placement sites and how that would take away from the existing, well-established programs that were already operating in-state. He further agrees that this is a loophole in the rules.

The Chair pointed out that to fix this issue, language needs to be added into the rules that explicitly states out-of-state schools cannot operate in Hawaii by providing pre-license education unless they have board approval. This requires a change in the rules. In the absence of this explicit language, out-of-state programs can provide pre-licensure education without board approval. She turned the question over to the DAG.

DAG Wong explained that the core issue is legal complexity in regulating out-of-state nursing education programs:

1. Current laws are silent, creating a regulatory void
2. Jurisdictional challenges exist in protecting students
3. Key problems include:
    - Difficulty enforcing standards across state lines
    - Limited ability to subpoena or penalize out-of-state institutions
    - No clear mechanism to protect students if a program fails to deliver promised education

DAG Wong further added that the historical Excelsior case exemplifies these challenges. While the Board of Nursing is authorized to regulate nursing education, practical enforcement becomes complicated when programs operate from outside Hawaii. The primary concern is student protection, but current statutes lack robust mechanisms to address potential misconduct by out-of-state educational institutions.

Mr. Dunbar posed the question on how a professional practice issue is managed when it's not explicitly covered in the Nurse Practice Act. EO Pang outlined the board's typical handling of issues as:

1. The Regulated Industries Complaints Office (RICO) would conduct an investigation
2. They would contact involved parties to gather information
3. Investigate the details of the complaint
4. Make a recommendation to the board on how to proceed
5. Potentially develop additional language or rules to address gaps in the existing regulations

This process is similar to how the board handles licensure adjudicatory matters, where an initial complaint leads to a thorough investigation and potential resolution or rule modification to prevent similar issues in the future. So how would the board have jurisdiction over non-licensees or when there is a void in the rules?

DAG Wong confirmed that the board would not have jurisdiction over non-licensees. However, the board's jurisdiction is limited to nursing education programs physically located in Hawaii. Under the existing Hawaii Revised Statutes, there is no clear legal basis for the board to investigate or pursue an out-of-state educational program teaching a Hawaii-based nursing student. The statutory language does not provide a mechanism for the board to regulate or oversee educational programs from other states.

EO Pang recommended that the board respond to Ms. Reichhardt's question based on existing rules. Having to modify the rules to account for out-of-state programs is a valid but separate conversation.

The Chair reminded the board that Ms. Reichhardt's question is: Does a school that is located outside of the state but is providing clinical education in the state of Hawaii require approval by the board?

Mr. Aratani asked if the board is required to make a determination and to provide an answer. DAG Wong responded that the board does not have to answer every question that is raised and they may decline to answer.

The Chair posed the question to the board: Do you want to answer Ms. Reichhardt's question? She added that the 2022 guidance clearly states the board does not regulate out-of-state post-licensure programs, which aligns with the board's statutory authority over pre-licensure programs. However, the current situation with an out-of-state school offering clinical education in Hawaii creates a language ambiguity. While not providing a definitive answer is unhelpful to schools and the Center for Nursing, the board's hands are tied by the current regulatory language. Given these constraints, the most prudent course of action is to acknowledge the limitations of the existing rules without taking further action.

Mr. Dunbar shared that the distinction between pre-licensure and post-licensure programs is significant. Post-licensure programs typically involve:
- Online bachelor's degrees
- Graduate students obtaining advanced degrees
- Programs that don't directly impact initial nursing licensure

With pre-licensure programs, the stakes are higher because they directly prepare students for initial nursing licensure. Given the lack of clear language about pre-licensure out-of-state programs and the existing regulatory void, the board may not even have a substantive question to address. While personal opinions may exist, the legal framework currently provides no clear mechanism for oversight of such programs.

The Chair reminded the board that the rules do not contain the terms "pre-license" and "post-license," and asked the board again if they want to answer Ms. Reichhardt's question.

Ms. Riggs, Mr. Dunbar, and Mr. Kuo said yes to answering the question.

The Chair put the question out for a vote: The board's interpretation is that we do not regulate out of state nursing programs. Does a school that is located out-of-state but has students doing any kind of education in Hawaii need board approval? The answer to that question is no. So the answer to Ms. Reichhardt's question is NO, the school does not need board approval. Ms. Riggs seconded the motion.

Ms. Reichhardt shared that the Center for Nursing is open to supporting further dialog and a creation of a working group or committee. The Chair agrees that there is interest amongst the board to clarify the language around the regulation of education, as demonstrated by the conversation that just occurred.

There was no public testimony on this matter.

Proposed amendments to healthcare-related HRS

EO Pang summarized that Ms. Reichhardt is participating in a working group focusing on amendments to the HRS, particularly involving statutes related to healthcare professionals. A proposed amendment aims to address barriers in healthcare-related statutes by creating a flexible definition of "licensed healthcare provider" that can be inserted across various statutes. Currently, statutes often list specific professions (like doctors or APRNs) that can perform certain practices. As healthcare evolves and new professions emerge, these static lists become outdated.

The key proposal is to create a universal definition that:

- Allows for broader interpretation of scope of practice
- Eliminates the need to repeatedly update statutes
- Focuses on the professional's defined scope of practice rather than explicitly naming each profession
- Provides a more adaptable framework for healthcare professional regulations

This approach would streamline legislative processes and accommodate the dynamic nature of healthcare professions.

The Chair added that in the current regulatory landscape, outdated statutes create barriers by explicitly listing only certain professions. As a result, healthcare professionals are often prevented from performing tasks within their actual scope of practice simply because their specific profession is not named in the statute. This leads to unnecessary restrictions that do not reflect the evolving capabilities and training of healthcare professionals, effectively blocking qualified practitioners from providing services they are competent to perform.

EO Pang states that the goal of this agenda item is to gather the board's feedback on two key aspects:

1. Overall opinion on the healthcare professional statute amendment initiative
2. Specific feedback on proposed definitions for "licensed healthcare provider"

The board is being asked to:

- Evaluate the broader initiative's merit
- Review and provide input on the proposed language definitions
- Engage in dialogue about potential improvements or concerns with the proposed changes

The aim is to collect comprehensive board input before moving forward with the proposed amendments.

Mr. Kuo shared that the proposed amendments emerged from a multi-year legislative effort to comprehensively review Hawaii Revised Statutes, focusing on expanding and clarifying professional scopes of practice. Key points include:

1. Legislators have repeatedly requested a review of practice scopes
2. The three-year project aims to create a more inclusive, adaptable framework
3. The working group is an inter-professional collaboration, including:
    - Physicians
    - Psychologists
    - Pharmacists
    - Advanced Practice Registered Nurses (APRNs)
    - Physician Assistants (PAs)

The goal is to develop a more flexible statutory approach that reduces the need for frequent legislative updates and better reflects the evolving capabilities of healthcare professionals.

The Chair shared her opinion that the proposed amendment is a logical approach to professional regulation. By creating a more flexible framework, it ensures that professionals can practice fully within their defined scope of practice as outlined in their specific statutes. This method promotes efficiency, reduces bureaucratic barriers, and allows each profession to operate at the full extent of their training and expertise, ultimately serving the public more effectively.

Ms. Shields-Hanson shared her concern that while the proposed definition aims to be inclusive, there's a potential terminology conflict with NCSBN's NCLEX definition. On the NCLEX, "healthcare provider" typically refers specifically to professionals with prescribing rights. The proposed amendment seeks a broader definition that encompasses all healthcare professionals. It would be prudent to verify the NCSBN's interpretation to ensure alignment and avoid potential confusion in testing or regulatory contexts.

The Chair clarified that the concern is over students' interpretation of the term "healthcare provider" on the NCLEX, to which Ms. Shields-Hanson responded affirmatively.

Ms. Moore shared that she thinks of all healthcare workers as healthcare providers, and it's intriguing that the proposed amendment shifts the language from "healthcare provider" to "healthcare professional." The Chair asked her if she has any concerns with the approach to using a more generic term, to which Ms. Moore replied in the negative.

Mr. Aratani and Mr. Dunbar also said they don't have concerns with the use of a generic term.

The Chair confirmed that there's a consensus amongst the board and EO Pang accepted the consensus in lieu of a vote.

EO Pang proceeded to ask if the board has thoughts, ideas, and opinions on the definition of "licensed healthcare provider" or "qualified licensed healthcare provider."

Mr. Kuo asked the clarifying question that the current definition is "licensed healthcare provider" and the proposal is to revise it to "qualified license healthcare professional." EO Pang confirmed affirmatively.

The Chair shared her understanding that the proposed amendment involves two key aspects:

1. Terminology Change: From "licensed healthcare provider" to "qualified licensed healthcare professional"
2. Definition Options:
    - First Definition: Focuses on healthcare professionals' scope of practice as defined in laws and rules
    - Alternative Definition: Emphasizes current active licensure and authorization to provide healthcare services

Key Characteristics:

- Provider-neutral approach
- Recognizes that licensed healthcare professionals can provide services within their respective scopes of practice
- Aims to create a more flexible, inclusive definition

The main critique is that the rationale for the definition is currently included within the definition. This should be separated from the definition itself.

Ms. Reichhardt offered the correction and clarification that the revision does not remove the rationale, but rather that the definition is included in the preamble so that the intent is established early on.

DAG Wong states that the challenge is that session laws, which often contain important context and intent, are not consistently carried forward into permanent statutes. This means the original purpose can be lost over time. The recommendation is to:

1. Incorporate the underlying intent directly into the definition
2. Avoid using the word "intent" explicitly
3. Create a more comprehensive, self-explanatory definition
4. Potentially develop a hybrid version that combines elements from different proposed definitions

The goal is to ensure the definition remains clear and purposeful without relying on external documentation that may not be preserved.

DAG Wong suggests a hybrid of the suggested revisions so that the definition is: “Qualified Licensed Healthcare Professional” means any healthcare individual whose scope and standards of practice, as defined in their respective laws in Title 25 and administrative rules, authorizes them to provide the healthcare service(s) described in this chapter and under their respective scopes of practice.

Following consensus from the board, EO Pang will collect potential locations in Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 457 for inserting the new definition. While one suggestion is already included in the packet, he believes there may be additional appropriate sections. He plans to gather these locations and bring them back to the board, allowing members to see how the definition would look when applied specifically to the nursing section. This approach will provide a practical demonstration of how the "qualified licensed healthcare professional" definition could be integrated into the existing statutes.

There was no public testimony on this matter.

Executive Officer's Report:

Twenty-Fourth Emergency Proclamation Relating to Wildfires

EO Pang stated that the Twenty-Fourth Emergency Proclamation Relating to Wildfires was issued on July 7, 2025 and allows:

1. Out-of-state nurses with unencumbered licenses to practice in Hawaii without a Hawaii license
2. Previously licensed Hawaii nurses who are currently not licensed to practice under a Hawaii healthcare provider

This proclamation is set to expire on September 4, 2025, unless extended by another proclamation.

There was no public testimony on this matter..

Reports:

Hawai'i State Center for Nursing –
Laura Reichhardt, Executive Director

Ms. Reichhardt reported:

Nursing Education Capacity Report Highlights: 2024 AACN shows upswing in nursing program enrollments

- 4% increase in LPN programs
- 2% increase in BSN programs
- Increased available seats across LPN, ADN, and BSN programs
- 2.9 fully qualified applicants per new student opening
- Continued strong demand for nursing education

Additional Updates:

1. Collaborative work on Hawaii Revised Statutes review
   - Recognized Chelsea's early involvement
   - Acknowledged Bradley's contributions
   - Emphasized Board of Nursing's collaborative role
2. Appreciation for Board's guidance on nursing education
3. Recognition of PBL License and Grants' work
   - Highlighted licensing of nearly 850 nurses in one month
   - Challenged public perception of nursing shortages

She also expressed personal gratitude to Mr. Yoshimura, praising his dedication and contributions.

Hawai'i American Nurses Association –
Elizabeth Kahakua, Executive Director

Ms. Kahakua reported:

Organizational Achievements:

- Reached 500 members, meeting their strategic planning goal
- Organization is five years old
- Recently attended membership assembly in Washington, D.C.

Current Advocacy Efforts:

- Part of a coalition with Washington and California states
- Addressing concerns about potential changes to the United States Preventative Services Task Force
- Sending two members to a lobbyist meeting
- Focused on preserving healthcare funding

Upcoming Events:

- Conference on September 27
- Seeking sponsors and attendees
- Nurse Excellence Award ceremony
- Food bank drives to support community
- 2026 board elections
- New Graduation Court program for new nurses (20-point system)

The organization is actively working to support nurses, advocate for healthcare, and engage with the nursing community through various initiatives.

Hawai'i Association of Professional Nurses –
Jeremy Creekmore, President
