- Be a United States citizen, a United States national, or an alien authorized to work in the United States, and of the age of majority;
- Possess a reputation for or record of competency, honesty, truthfulness, financial integrity, and fair dealing;*
- Fulfill the experience requirements (see section 2 below) and have a current approved "Experience Certificate" (issued upon approval of this application);
- Prior to taking the broker's licensure examination, fulfill the prelicense education requirements for a broker and have a current approved Hawaii "School Completion Certificate" or a "Prelicensing Education Equivalency Certificate";
- Pass the Hawaii real estate broker's licensure examination; and
- Submit a complete application for a real estate broker's license within two (2) years of passing the examination.
- Hold a current, unencumbered Hawaii real estate salesperson license, or a current, unencumbered real estate salesperson or broker license in another state or jurisdiction recognized by the Association of Real Estate License Law Officials (ARELLO), with an equivalent real estate licensing law as determined by the Real Estate Commission.

* An applicant who has a background that may not meet this requirement should consider a preliminary decision by the Commission before committing to prelicensing education and the real estate examination. The decision will give the applicant a non-binding opinion as to successful or unsuccessful licensure in the future. Call (808) 586-2643 for more information.

2. Experience Requirement

Broker applicants must have experience as a full-time (averaging at least forty hours per week and no prorata credit given for part-time real estate salesperson activity) Hawaii-licensed real estate salesperson associated with a Hawaii-licensed real estate broker for at least three (3) years of the five-year period immediately prior to submitting the broker experience certificate application, and have practical real estate salesperson experience. No credit is given for periods during which the applicant's license was inactive, forfeited, suspended, revoked, or terminated. Applicant's principal broker or broker in charge must certify the employment period, and the number of weeks the applicant devoted at least 40 hours per week to real estate license activity.

Equivalency for the experience requirement may be met by possessing a current, unencumbered real estate broker's or salesperson's license in another state or jurisdiction recognized by the Association of Real Estate License Law Officials (ARELLO), with an equivalent real estate licensing law as determined by the Commission. Unencumbered means that there are no conditions or disciplinary action attached to the real estate broker's license at the time of processing of this application. See "Requirements for Equivalency for Experience in Another State" below.

3. Requirements for Equivalency for Experience in Another State

If the applicant possesses a current, unencumbered real estate broker's or salesperson's license in another state, the Commission may approve an equivalency to ALL or PART of the three (3) years of the five-year period under one of the following categories:

5. Instructions for Completing the Experience Certification Statement

- a. The principal broker or broker in charge for each brokerage firm with which applicant was associated in the past five years and applicant's current principal broker or broker in charge must each complete an "Experience Certification Statement" (Certification). The principal broker or broker in charge at the time the applicant was associated with the brokerage firm, or the brokerage firm's current principal broker or broker in charge may complete the Certification.
 - i. Type or print the applicant's name at the top of the page.
 - ii. Provide current information on the Principal Broker or Broker in Charge in Part I.
 - iii. In Part II:
 - (1) Indicate the period of time covered by the Certification, and the name and license number of the brokerage firm at the time.
 - (2) Provide the number of weeks that the applicant devoted at least 40 hours per week to real estate license activity, whether in or out of the office. Time spent on clerical and non-real estate duties should not be counted. No pro-rata credit given for part-time activity.
- b. Although the Certification is completed by the applicant's principal broker or broker in charge, both the applicant and the principal broker or broker in charge are responsible for its accuracy. Applicant will also certify, on the application form, that the information contained in the "Experience Certification Statement" is true and accurate and that applicant will provide verifying documents upon request by the Commission.

6. Experience Certificate, Expiration Date, Duplicate

An experience certificate is valid for two (2) years from the date of issuance and will be mailed to successful applicants. The certificate must be presented at the examination site at the time the applicant takes the broker's licensure examination and after the applicant passes the examination, submitted with the application for real estate license. Applicants will not be allowed to take the examination after the expiration of the certificate. Applicants with expired certificates must apply for a new broker experience certificate and will be subject to the same requirements as a first-time applicant.

7. Oral Testimony for Equivalency Requests

An applicant requesting an equivalency may present oral testimony at the meeting at which the application will be reviewed. The applicant must submit a written request. The request may be included with the written request for equivalency. The applicant will then be notified of the date, time, and place of the meeting. The Commission may limit oral testimony to a specified time period, but in no case shall the period be less than five minutes. If prepared testimony will be lengthy, it is suggested that the applicant summarize the testimony, emphasizing key points. The applicant may also submit written testimony. If so, submit 20 copies. The Commission will not allow any testimony which is irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious. Upon arriving at the meeting room, sign the "sign-in" sheet and identify yourself to one of the Commission's staff. You may want to consult the Commission's rules on oral testimony, Hawaii Administrative Rules, section 16-99-83.

8. Problems Securing an Experience Certification Statement

If an applicant has difficulty obtaining a completed "Experience Certification Statement" from an associating broker, the following steps are suggested:

- a. Send a written request to the principal broker or broker in charge by certified mail with a return receipt. Enclose a blank Experience Certification Statement and request that the broker complete and return the form within 10 days of receipt. Keep a copy of the letter.
- b. If the broker does not return the Experience Certification Statement within the 10 days of receipt, submit the original certified mail return receipt, a copy of the letter sent, any returned mail, a short explanation of the chronology of events with your application, and copies of evidence to substantiate full-time real estate salesperson activity.

This will lengthen the time required to review your application.

9. Making False Statement a Misdemeanor

Under §467-20, Hawaii Revised Statutes:

It shall be unlawful for any person or the person's agent to testify before or file with the commission, or the testing service agency designated by the commission, any notice, statement, or other document required under this chapter, that is false or untrue or contains any material misstatement of fact, or contains forgery. In addition to the sanctions or remedies as provided in this chapter, any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable pursuant to section 706-640 or 706-663, or both, and not pursuant to section 467-26.
