CONDOMINIUM PROPERTY REGIME
Chapter 514B, Hawaii Revised Statutes

GENERAL INFORMATION

Effective For:

Condominium Property Regimes Created After July 1, 2006
Existing 514A Condominium Property Regimes Electing to Register under Chapter 514B, HRS

A condominium is a special form of ownership of real property. After July 1, 2006, a condominium property regime in Hawaii is created by complying with the requirements of the Condominium Property Act, chapter 514B, Hawaii Revised Statutes ("HRS"). In addition, the condominium project shall comply with all applicable requirements and secure required approvals of the respective county in which the project is located. Any condominium property regime established under chapter 514B, HRS, "shall conform to the existing underlying county zoning for the property and all applicable county permitting requirements adopted by the county in which the property is located, including any supplemental rules adopted by the county, pursuant to section 514B-6, to ensure the conformance of condominium property regimes to the purposes and provisions of county zoning and development ordinances and chapter 205, including section 505-4.6 where applicable. In the case of a property which includes one or more existing structures being converted to condominium status, the condominium property regime shall comply with section 514B- 32(a)(13) or 514B-84(a)." §514B-5, HRS.

A condominium property regime is created by recording in the Bureau of Conveyances or filing with the Office of the Assistant Registrar of the Land Court the master deed or lease and the declaration of condominium property regime. A condominium property regime is not created by the Real Estate Commission ("Commission").

Except for permissible preregistration solicitations<sup>1</sup>, no units in a condominium project shall be offered for sale prior to the registration of the condominium project with the Commission, receipt of an effective date for the developer's public report from the Commission, and the delivery of the report to the prospective purchaser.<sup>2</sup> The Commission does not approve or disapprove the condominium property regime or project but merely reviews the developer's proposed public report to determine whether the public report adequately discloses all material facts to prospective buyers based on the information and documents (application package) submitted by the developer.

The developer's public report is non-expiring and the developer must amend the report to reflect any material or pertinent changes contained in or omitted from the report.

Many condominium projects are created but not offered for sale. In such cases, the Commission has not received any information or documents (an application package) from the developer nor has the developer issued any public report.

Developers are subject to the applicable laws, requirements, fees, and forms in effect at the time of filing.

All projects must register under chapter 514B, HRS. Chapter 514A, HRS, was repealed.

EXCEPTIONS FROM REGISTRATION AND ISSUANCE OF AN EFFECTIVE DATE FOR A DEVELOPER'S PUBLIC REPORT

Developers are not required to register the condominium property regime or project with the Commission prior to selling or offering to sell any units in a condominium project for sales involving:

1. A gratuitous disposition of a unit;
2. A disposition pursuant to court order;
3. A disposition by a government or governmental agency;
4. A disposition by foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure;
5. Projects in which all units are restricted to nonresidential uses and all units are to be sold for $1,000,000 or more; or
6. The sale of units in bulk, such as where a developer undertakes to develop and then sells all or a portion of the developer's entire inventory of units to a purchaser who is a developer. The registration requirements and the developer's amended developer's public report requirements shall apply to any sale of units to the public following a sale of units in bulk.

PROCESSING INFORMATION

The process for the issuance of an effective date for the developer's public report takes approximately six to eight weeks and is as follows:

1. The developer submits to the Commission a complete application package, including fees and supporting documents in accordance with instructions.
2. Upon receipt by the Commission, the application package is reviewed for organization and deficiencies. If incomplete or unorganized, the developer is so notified and the processing of the application is suspended until corrections are made by the developer.
3. If the application package is organized and without deficiencies, then the application is administratively processed and the project is assigned to a condominium consultant for review. The developer is notified that all further communications concerning the project should be directed to the assigned condominium consultant.
4. The condominium consultant will communicate directly with the developer and/or its attorney with any questions, deficiencies, recommendations, etc.
5. Upon recommendation by the condominium consultant and Commission's acceptance of the recommendation, the commission will issue an effective date for the developer's public report. The developer will finalize the public report and provide the necessary copies to the Commission.

The processing time is dependent on the following factors, among others:

1. The organization, completeness, and accuracy of the filing;
2. The complexity and the number of non-traditional elements of the documents and the project;
3. The number of amendments, changes, or corrections initiated by the developer during the process;
4. Whether the project has problems or delays with the county review and approval process;
5. The backlog and volume of filings received by the Commission;
6. Whether the filing requires review and decision-making at the Commission's monthly meeting; and
7. Whether the filing raises issues requiring an Attorney General opinion.

For chapter 514A, HRS, projects that did not meet the Act 223, SLH 2019 June 30, 2020 deadline, please contact the office for specific information.

ADVERTISING INFORMATION

Prior to the registration of the condominium project with the Commission, the issuance of an effective date for the developer's public report by the Commission, and the delivery of the developer's public report to prospective purchasers, a developer and its agents under very limited circumstances may "solicit" prospective purchasers to encourage them to acquire a unit. The law defines "solicit" to mean advertise, induce, or to attempt in whatever manner to encourage a person to acquire a unit. Solicitation activities, however, are subject to the following limitations:

1. The developer shall not collect any moneys from prospective purchasers or anyone on behalf of prospective purchasers, whether or not the moneys are to be placed in an escrow account, or whether or not the moneys would be refundable at the request of the prospective purchaser; and
2. The developer shall not require or request that a prospective purchaser execute any document other than a non-binding preregistration agreement. The preregistration agreement shall not incorporate the terms and provisions of the sales contract for the unit and, by its terms, shall not become a sales contract. Notwithstanding anything contained in the preregistration agreement to the contrary, the preregistration agreement may be canceled at any time by either the developer or the prospective purchaser by written notice to the other.

The Commission has prepared an approved preregistration agreement for use by the developer. Use of the Commission-prepared form shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of the preregistration agreement as required by law. The form is included with this information packet. The developer is not required to use this form. If the developer chooses to use its own preregistration agreement form, the form must be submitted with its registration application.

SALES TO OWNER-OCCUPANTS INFORMATION

In summary, Part V B. of Chapter 514B, HRS, requires that, except where excluded or inapplicable, a developer of a condominium project must designate at least fifty percent of the residential apartments in the project for sale to prospective owner-occupants through specifically described published announcements. Developers must review Part V B, Sales to Owner-Occupants, thoroughly.

DEVELOPER'S PUBLIC REPORTS HAVE NO EXPIRATION DATES BUT ARE SUBJECT TO AMENDMENTS AND ANNUAL UPDATES

The developer's public report, any amendments, or amended developer's public report shall not expire until such time as the developer has sold all units in the project. When the developer has changes either material or pertinent, or both, regarding the information contained in or omitted from the developer's public report, the developer shall immediately submit to the Commission an amendment to the developer's public report or an amended developer's public report clearly reflecting any changes. Supporting information and documents for any changes must accompany any amendments. Within a reasonable period of time, the Commission may issue an effective date for the amendment or for an amended developer's public report or take other appropriate action.

The submission of an amendment to the developer's public report or an amended developer's public report shall not require the developer to suspend sales, subject to the power of the Commission to order sales to cease<sup>3</sup>; provided that the developer shall advise the appropriate real estate broker or brokers, if any, of the change and disclose to purchasers any change in the information contained in the developer's public report pending the issuance of an effective date for any amendment to the developer's public report or amended developer's public report.

This Material Can Be Made Available For Individuals With Special Needs. Please Call The Senior Condominium Specialist At (808) 586-2643 To Submit Your Request.

The developer shall provide all purchasers with a true copy of any amendments to the developer's public report, if the purchaser has received copies of the developer's public report and all prior amendments, if any; or a restated developer's public report, including all amendments and information.

Additionally, the developer, its successor, or assign shall file annually a report to update the materials contained in the developer's public report, together with the payment of nonrefundable fees, at least thirty days prior to the anniversary date of the effective date for a developer's public report. If there is no change to the developer's public report, the developer shall so state.

Other approved forms are optional and may be used by the developer or the developer may create its own forms; however, if the Commission approved form is used, it must be used by the developer in its entirety without any changes to the content and format.
